Message from the executive office

As life slowly returns to normal after three years of pandemic, the Prescott-Russell Community Services Foundation is strengthening its capacities to better achieve its mission.

Executive Director, PRCS

Message from the executive office

Since the Foundation's incorporation, its day-to-day activities have been handled by a very small team made up of the volunteer Executive Committee and the PRCS Executive Director. This year, we hired a part-time clerk to help with fundraising activities.

We're also modernizing our ways with the launch of a few projects that will be completed next year. We have refreshed our corporate image with a new logo, and reorganized our internal systems to facilitate the management of donor information.

Message from the executive office

We're looking forward to the future with enthusiasm. In fact, we can't wait to unveil the initiatives we're working on, including a new website, an online donation platform and new fundraising activities.

All these projects will help us ensure that our seniors will continue to live in an age-friendly community.
